C. Board actions

1. Results of Audit

- Marina Polyakova, auditing firm's representative indicated ATE had received a clean audit (A "clean" or unqualified opinion states that the financial statements present a fair and accurate picture of the company and comply with generally accepted accounting principles.)
- The audit report included a number of recommendations, and noted ATE was making changes that would respond to all or almost all of the recommendations. These included:
- Move to accrual accounting to comply with GAAP, generally accepted accounting principles. This has been done. As she noted, the transition to accrual accounting was done while the audit itself was being completed which accounted in part for the length of time it took to complete the audit.
- Move financial/recordkeeping functions to an outside service with expertise in accrual accounting. This is being done. The outside service will be asked to provide monthly reports to the Board.
- Develop a financial procedures manual.

2. Conference registration fees

3. Conversations with NAPDS

D. Expression of Appreciation

ATE is a unique organization. It's make up of members who care deeply about the organization is evident in the numerous emails, phone calls and offers of support and guidance I have received in the past couple of months. I know I am not unique in that I have found special friendships among ATE members, but it is clear to me the extent of those relationships reach far past our individual friendships. They are integrally connected to our affiliation with ATE and convey a deep sense of commitment to the organization. This knowledge has helped me understand and appreciate ATE as an organization and frankly, provides me with confidence as I know I am not doing this alone. While I know I cannot thank everyone personally, I feel a particular need to express my deep appreciation for those who have gone the extra mile in making sure the transition in ATE presidency has gone smoothly as well as those individuals who have stepped forward to take on additional tasks to ensure the 2016 conference and related activities are carried out in a professional manner that ensures a valuable experience for those in attendance. I offer my humble thanks to:

- David Ritchey
- Billy Dixon
- Walt Polka and Christy McIntyre
- Annette Digby and Ryan Flesner
- Emma Savage-Davis
- Karen Embry-Jenlink
- Nancy Gallavan, Terrell Peace
- ADS's
- Past Presidents, board members, numerous ATE members for support and offers of assistance.
